JUST IN TIME FOR SUMMER: BACKYARD POOL TILE

Jacksonville, FL – May 2004: This morning, Amware's craftsmen unloaded the first of several anticipated deliveries from their newest client: a supplier of imported ceramic tile used in swimming pool construction.

The client, with fifteen stores around the country, asked Amware to participate in its nationwide supply chain as its Southeastern United States Regional Distribution Center. Amware's Jacksonville facility is tasked with maintaining inventory levels for its eight eastern region locations.

In addition, Amware will be spearheading the transload and distribution of railcars traveling within the clients supply chain. Each railcar will flow through Amware's facility in Jacksonville, Florida before making deliveries at each of the partnering distribution centers throughout the United States. Amware will maintain an on-hand inventory in excess of 1,000 pallets of tile comprising over three hundred SKUs for re-distribution throughout the country.
