EMPLOYMENT TRENDS IN THE SUPPLY CHAIN INDUSTRY

Atlanta, GA– May 2007: Yesterday afternoon, Amware’s President, Rob Doyle, laid host to the final Council of Supply Chain Management Professionals Atlanta Dinner Meeting of the 2006/2007 Program Year. The slate: Employment Trends in the Supply Chain Industry.

With over seventy industry professionals in attendance, the panel stimulated and responded to a myriad of moderator driven and field questions. Panelists included Bob Baxter, Senior Client Partner at Korn/Ferry International, David Ricker, President & Founder of Stone Gate Recruiting, and Joe White, CEO of Cost Down Consulting.

Audience participation was energized with questions ranging from how to engage a Professional Recruiter, both as a company and as a spirited individual, the impact of the current and looming forecasted Driver-Shortage here in the US, and the Panelists outlook on future industry employment and the related influx of high-energy College Graduates eyeing our sector.

“I would like to publicly thank our Panelists and audience alike”, offered Rob Doyle, President, Amware Logistics Services. “We are thriving in the ‘flattening world’ and it is these trends we spoke of this evening that are shaping and maturing our industry. I would like to wish each of my colleagues all the best in their search for personal career development; I am hopeful that our Panel will bring you the prospect of growth & development, both within your organization and along your own career path. It is an exciting time in our industry and I for one am encouraged by the outlook we are seeing unfold”.
